What are the risks and what could I get in return?

Risk Indicator:

The summary risk indicator is a guide to the level of risk of this product compared to other products. It shows how likely it is that the product will lose money because of movements in the markets or because we are not able to pay you.

We have classified this product in the range of 2 to 6 out of 7, which represents a risk situated between "a low" and "the second-highest" risk class. This rates the potential losses from future performance between a low to a high level, and poor market conditions are between very unlikely and very likely to impact our capacity to pay you.

Be aware of currency exposure. If the underlying assets are denominated in a currency other than that of the premium you paid, so the final return to you will depend upon the exchange rate between the two currencies involved. This risk is not considered in the indicator shown above.

What happens if Baloise Vie Luxembourg S.A. is unable to pay out?

In the event of the insurer's default, you do not benefit from a compensation system such as a guarantee fund and you may suffer a financial loss.

The insurer may be subject to the risk of default by an entity other than itself, such as a custodian bank or an issuer of assets. These risks, which may prevent the insurer from honouring its commitments, are borne by the policyholder. Policyholders are first-tier preferred creditors to the Company, therefore it is possible to recover claims relating to the execution of their insurance contracts in the event of the insurance company's default.

Assets related to life insurance contracts are segregated from the insurer's own assets and deposited with a custodian bank approved in advance by the supervisory authority (CAA). All assets of the insurance company except monetary deposits are held off-balance sheet with the custodian bank.
